A WORD TO GREENBACKERS.

There are a great many belonging to the so-called Greenback party who have honest convictions regarding the theory advanced by the leaders of the movement. They are no doubt sincere in their belief that something is wrong about our financial system, and that growing out of the supposed impertinence of that system, is the business depression which has prevailed all over the country for the past five years; and no doubt they earnestly believe that a change in the financial policy of the Administration—such as substituting greenbacks for National bank notes, or paying the bonds in greenbacks, will cause a revival of business. The leaders of the so-called Greenback movement know that such a policy could not in the very nature of things, restore public confidence, put mills and factories in operation, increase the price of grain, revive commerce, or build up trade. Men who know anything of the history of the past seventeen years, should know that the present system of finance did not cause the panic, neither does it prevent the return of good times. Our Greenback friends should dispassionately consider the subject before they cast their vote for any man who is leading a movement, which if it should prove successful, would bring about a state of things more depressing and hopeless than any which this country has seen since the Revolutionary War.

What was the cause of the hard times which set in in the fall of 1873? But one answer can be given—the war. Times were very good in 1860 and 1861, but four long years of war, a war greater in magnitude and deathliness in its results than any war of modern times, loaded the nation with a debt of three billions of dollars. The destruction of life and the waste of property was a fearful load for the United States to carry, and yet, does any loyal man, whether he be Republican or Greenbacker, begrudge the expense incurred in saving the nation? We hope he does not. Well, what was the result? In 1865 we came out of the fiery conflict with a mortgage of three billions of dollars on the nation. What was to be done about it? Was it best to pay it, or repudiate it? Pay every cent of it, was the sentiment of the Republican party, and thousands of those who are now Greenbackers, said the same thing. Now apply this to the experience of every man who has a mortgage on his farm. An honest man would not repudiate the debt, but he would work hard and economize and pay it. That is just what this nation is trying to do, and it has been grandly successful. At first, the taxes were heavy. Almost every thing was taxed—your farms, your incomes, your deeds, notes, checks—now the burden of taxation has been thrown off, and no farmer or mechanic, or business man can feel the tax he pays the Government. We have done mighty things in the past thirteen years. We have reduced the debt one third, decreased the interest one third, lessened taxation many millions, turned the balance of trade in our favor, made the greenbacks as good as gold, and are just settling out on the road to renewed prosperity.

Our Greenback friends who think they have a cause of complaint should remember these things; what they have endured for thirteen years, has been the inevitable result of war. It was worse after the Revolution, and far worse after the war of 1812. We have seen no such times as the people then experienced, and never will. Now what remains to be done? "Learn to labor and to wait." We have the best system of finance the world ever saw, or will have, when resumption takes place. There is plenty of money in the country, and it can be hired at lower rates of interest than ever before known. There never was so much good money in the United States as there is to-day, so

It is reported that the negro is innocent.

THE RACE.

Result of the Hanlan-Courtney Rowing Match—Hanlan the Winner—Courtney in Auburn.

LACHINE, Oct. 3.—4:57.—The start has just been made. Time 35 1/2 minutes.

It is generally believed that Courtney sold out the race. Courtney has no friends here. He evidently sold the race. It is supposed he will now challenge Hanlan for the championship and will win.

BUTLER'S GAME.

An Argument Between Himself and the New York Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The Washington Post in an article devoted to the cipher telegrams sent by the leaders of both parties came into the possession of General Butler. The Post says: "General Butler soon found a way to dispose of the Democratic dispatches to his own interest. He informed the editor of the New York Tribune that he had these telegrams, and agreed to furnish them for publication on condition that the Tribune would not attack him editorially in his campaign for the Governorship of Massachusetts. The Tribune eagerly accepted the proposition, made the bargain, and for weeks past has been publishing cipher telegrams as furnished and translated by General Butler. Mr. Reed has, as every reader of his paper can testify, faithfully kept his part of the bargain. He has permitted correspondents to make vigorous attacks upon Butler, but not one word has appeared against him in the editorial columns of the Tribune. This silence has surprised many, and called forth criticism from hard money people. This story is reported to have come from a Democratic member of the Potter Committee. Some parts of it, however, are certainly not true, as the Tribune to-day editorially denounces Butler.

THE PLACUE.

Hope Once More Dies Out at Memphis—No Decrease in the Virulence of the Disease.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 3.—The situation remains unchanged. Last night it turned cool, and this morning there were some slight signs of frost, but it is warm again to-day, and so hope once more dies out, and it yet remains a fight for life to those who have thus far escaped. The greatest danger that now besets us is the desire of refugees to return to their homes. They surely must be insane, for not a day passes but that some returning citizen is stricken down, and yet others can be found who do not profit by the lesson thus taught them.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 3.—From noon to 6 p. m., fifteen deaths were reported and 187 cases, of which 110 date since the 30th. Among the deaths to-day are J. J. Cibly, a prominent merchant and senior of the firm of Cibly & Son. The son died about two weeks ago, and Mr. Cibly died this morning.

METHODISTS.

The Conference Considering the Mutual Aid Society.

PORT ATKINSON, Wis., Oct. 3.—The Methodist Episcopal Conference devoted their time this morning to considering the advantages of the Preachers' Mutual Aid Society, an organization for the benefit of the widows and orphans of deceased ministers. Two committees were appointed, one for Conference Relations, and one to examine into the character and usefulness of those who are desirous of becoming members of the Conference. Dr. G. M. Steele, of Lawrence University, Appleton, and Treasurer of the Educational Fund of the Conference, gave a time report to the Conference. The annual report of the Methodist Book Concern was read by the Secretary, which showed it to be in good condition. J. C. Haddock preached the annual missionary sermon this evening. F. S. Stein, of Racine; S. Lugg, of Bay View; and E. L. Eaton, of Beloit, preached this evening on the anniversary of the Church Extension Society.

NOVEL SUICIDE.

A Green Bay Rough Tries Suicide by Cutting His Throat with an Ax.

GREEN BAY, Oct. 3.—A number of people on Washington street were horrified this noon, to see a man named Bob Kenore cut his throat while standing on the walk. Having just secured an ax in a hardware store, he deliberately lifted his chin with one hand and backed with the other until he severed the external jugular and windpipe. Kenore was known as a disolute character. He lately kept a house of ill fame, and had just come out of jail after serving a thirty days' sentence for disorderly conduct. He has a wife and infant. Kenore is still alive, at 7 o'clock this evening, but it is doubtful if he will recover.

POLITICAL.

General Banks Defeated for a Nomination in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—General Banks was refused a nomination as candidate for Congress by the Fifth District Republicans to-day. The Hon. Selwyn Z. Bowman was nominated on the fifteenth ballot by a vote of 51 to 50 for General Banks. It was a contest close, sharp, and full of circumstances. There is feeling of dissatisfaction at the result, and the nominee, who has had only a brief experience in State politics in the Legislature, will stand a poor show of election if the Democrats nominate Richard Frothingham, as they undoubtedly will.

RELIEF.

General Grant's Contribution to the Yellow Fever Sufferers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—This afternoon Mayor Ely was waited upon by U. S. Grant Jr., who said his father (General Grant), had instructed him to visit the Mayor and give him a check for $500 for the benefit of the yellow-fever sufferers. Mayor Ely after receiving the check, said he wished Mr. Grant to express to his father his sincere acknowledgments in behalf of the stricken people of the South.

BRIEFLETS.

—Hitch the horses.
—Beware of burglars.
—Temple of Honor to-night.
—The grain men now rise early and get to bed late to keep up with the pressure of business.

—There are thirteen now boarding at the Hotel de Colley. The prisoners are all enjoying good health.

—At an early date the Bower City Band and the Janesville Guards will show up together in a street parade.

—A number of church folks from here will go to Fort Atkinson to hear Bishop Foster next Sunday morning.

—C. B. Conant has just received two hundred barrels of St. Louis winter wheat flour. See his advertisement.

—The funeral of Mr. Thomas Andrews took place this afternoon at his late residence. Rev. Mr. Chapell officiated, and numerous friends of the family were in attendance.

—The Chicago races next week. Several admirers of speedy horse-flesh will go from here. Some of them say they wouldn't miss it even if they have to wear spring overcoats all winter.

—There is one man at least who thinks that Galtueau is a remarkable and wonderful lecturer, but that man has left the city. His name is Charles J. Galtueau, "the eloquent Chicago lawyer."

—A letter has been sent from this city to Rev. Almond Bassille, Boston, and it bears no signature. The absent-minded writer thereof can learn further particulars by interviewing the postmaster.

—Joe Skelly, the Shopiere cobbler, has got sobered up enough now to quit abusing his guardians at the jail. He lured the vilest possible language at them for a night and day after being locked up.

—Mr. Fairbanks, who was the victim of the runaway, an account of which was given in last evening's Gazette, is keeping to his bed, and feels quite badly banged up, but it is thought he will soon be himself again.

—It is suggested that a subscription should be taken to purchase another horse for Mr. Fairbanks to take the place of the one that was drowned yesterday. Mr. Fairbanks is worthy of such a help, and at such a time as this, the aid of friends would doubtless be acceptable. The suggestion is a good one and should not be allowed to end with talk.

—Miss Lachapelle is to "hoof it" fifty miles in Whitewater next Tuesday. She claims to have made a contract to walk from Milwaukee to Chicago a distance of ninety miles, in less than twenty-four hours, for which task she is to receive $500. If she don't succeed she will save her railroad fare, which is quite an item considering the amount of money which she generally receives for her walks.

—Young McCormick, who was stabbed last week in a street row, has been very dangerously ill since, and his life was almost despaired of, but to-day he is better and there is again a good prospect of his recovery. It appears that he felt so well the first of this week that he disregarded the advice of his physician to remain quiet, and by his over-exertion he brought on an inflammation of the wound, which threatened to prove fatal. With proper care he will, it is thought, now gain. No steps have been taken to ward prosecuting any of the parties concerned, and it is not certain that there will be.

—McKey & Bro. are now opening the largest stock of fall goods received by the firm in many years. Their stock of millinery is especially large and attractive, and comprises an enormous assortment of fashionable materials and all the novelties in the market. Their entire stock has been bought directly from importers and manufacturers in the east for cash, at figure that defy competition. Miss Foster, who presides over their trimming department, has just returned from a trip to the principal emporium of fashion in the west, and is now prepared to execute orders from the ladies of Janesville in the very best manner and in the highest style of the art, at prices that must be satisfactory to all.

—It appears that the fellows who tried to rob a man at the hotel at Elkhorn a short time ago, and who fired at him several shots, were really speaking the truth when they said that they were mistaken in their man. It is supposed that they mistook the man for Mr. James Shearer, of this city, who had just drawn about $2,000 out of the bank, and who was spotted by some thieves and followed. Shortly after the attempted robbery one of the fellows was caught on the fair grounds, and was identified by the man who was attacked. It was a lucky thing for Shearer that there was another fellow who looked like him, or he would have been the target for the bullets of the robbers who had been following him.

—The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 51 degrees above and at 2 o'clock this afternoon at 67 degrees above. Clear. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 42 degrees and 49 degrees above.

—The indications to-day are for the Tennessee and Ohio valleys, the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys, rising or stationary barometer, and north-wind to southeast winds, slightly cooler, clear or partly cloudy weather.

this season with the Uticas. The Boston McGinley has strangely enough dropped out of public notice, and has sunk so deep into oblivion that even his brother in Utica does not seem to know his whereabouts. A short time ago the report was widely spread through the various papers that McGinley, formerly of the Boston, was playing with the Mutuals of this city. The report doubtless originated in the fact that a young man of that name, but of no established relationship to the others, played a few games here. The Utica McGinley seeing this item going the rounds had his heart gladdened on getting these tidings of his brother, and hastened to pen a letter to the McGinley of this city, whom he supposed was his brother. The letter was received here yesterday, and contains many touching inquiries concerning the family welfare, and asks about still another brother who seems to be also out of the line of communication with his relatives. He will be somewhat disappointed doubtless when he learns that the missing brother is not in Janesville. It must be a hereditary failure with the McGinleys to lose sight of each other.

A WARNING TO BOYS.

There are many boys who do not seem to be content with engaging in the many harmless sports which are provided for them, and who seem reckless of the lives and limbs of others, provided they can only have a little fun. Of late the old sport of shooting pebbles and shot from a little toy rigged with an elastic propelling power, is coming into vogue again. [A short time ago this dangerous sport was stopped by the authorities, but now the boys are getting at it again. The missiles sent forth from these weapons endanger not merely window lights, but endanger life itself. A number of narrow escapes have been already reported and some accidents. Last night a boy had a very narrow escape from being killed by one of these missiles. The rubber shooter, as they are just as dangerous a weapon as a revolver or a gun, and the authorities recognizing this are taking steps to prevent the further use of them, and any boys found violating the law are to be promptly punished. It matters not whether they are being used on the school grounds or on the streets, the authorities propose to stop the practice everywhere and at once.

DEATH OF MRS. H. A. STONE.

About half past nine o'clock last evening death ended the long illness of Mrs. H. A. Stone. Mr. and Mrs. Stone took up their residence in this community about ten years ago, removing hither from Walworth county, where the family during their long residence won many friends who will be saddened on learning of their affliction. Mrs. Stone has been a patient sufferer for many long years, and though her ill health has prevented her from taking as active a social position as would otherwise have been the case, yet she had many warm friends who will deeply feel their loss. Besides the late, her husband she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Orange Williams, of this city, and a son, Mr. Ed. E. Stone, who is now practicing law at Plattsmouth, Nebraska.

The funeral services will be held at the residence to-morrow morning at 10:30 o'clock, and the remains will be taken to Darien for interment.

A telegram received from the son, Mr. Ed. Stone, states that he is on his way to this city, and expects to arrive this evening. Mr. Orange Williams, who was also away from the city, is expected to arrive also this evening.

AN EVENTFUL LIFE.

Many of the readers of the Gazette will remember the sensation caused last spring by a young man named Dr. Rowland, who jumped into a mill-pond to drown his unreciprocated love for one of Troy's fair maidens. His relatives live not a great way from Janesville and he is better known by the name of Fred Teetsorn, his stepfather's name being Teetsorn. About six weeks ago he volunteered his services as a helper in the yellow fever hospital of New Orleans, and has been actively engaged in attending the sick and dying. Last Tuesday his friends received word that the terrible disease had smitten him and that he had died. For one of his years his life has been an eventful one.
